AXE MAKERS SINCE 1844

AXE MAKERS SINCE 1844

Helko Werk was established in Cronenberg, Germany by a member of the Helsper family in 1844.

We quickly earned a reputation as a manufacturer of high quality hatchets, axes and forestry tools, and by the early 20th Century were exporting to Europe, Africa, Asia, and the Americas.

Today, Helko Werk hatchets and axes are recognised worldwide as some of the finest forestry tools available.

Geniune Leather Blade Protector

All Helko Werk hatchets and axes are supplied with a heavy duty welted blade edge protector, handmade from top grain cowhide.

The leather is riveted together with nickel-plated studs and incorporates an adjustable buckle and strap to secure it safely to the hatchet or axe head.

Classic Collection

A collection of hatchets and axes with classic head patterns, including US felling, Tasmanian and Scandinavian splitting.

Each head is drop forged by hand, then ground and buffed to give it a distinctive highly polished finish.
